Sustainable materials and techniques

Tedd Wood, Inc. is proud to offer Nature's Collection, a line of healthy, green cabinetry.

As environmental stewardship has been gaining momentum on a national level, Nature's Collection is just one more step we have taken towards deepening our roots to being an increasingly faithful guardian of the environment. We recognize that we have a unique responsibility to be good environmental stewards as our industry is resource-intensive, requiring large quantities of wood and energy. We also understand the necessity for protecting and preserving these resources for other uses, future customers and generations to come.
